

A Note from Our Executive Director

Dear Community Supporters,

During times like these, I am proud to be a part of an organization that has such a great impact on the lives of those who are most vulnerable. Your investment stays in our communities and meets the needs of those who live and work here.

We accept the responsibility of being a trusted resource and problem solver during this unusual time. While the pandemic has brought about significant challenges and hardships, with your support we can continue to rise to the challenge of making sure seniors receive meals, children receive therapy, battered women have a safe place to live, abused children have an advocate and so much more.

On behalf of all the lives you have impacted with your giving, thank you. Individually we can make a difference, but collectively we can make a change. This year more than ever we need your continued financial support.

Sincerely,

Stephanie S. Blevins
